We live in a diverse nation whose identity draws from many traditions, languages, and peoples. The contributions and achievements of black Americans to American culture are an important and often neglected part of our nation’s heritage; they include significant discoveries in art, music, science, and literature, as well as crucial steps in the ongoing fight for justice and equality for all Americans. In honor of Black History Month, here are some suggestions for celebrating and remembering the experiences and accomplishments of black Americans.

Attend one of our Black History Month programs the second week of February:

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 6
Director Willy Mulholland will share stories and a picture book he wrote based on the life of his mother, Joan Trumpauer Mulholland, a civil rights activist who participated in the 1963 Woolworth’s lunch counter sit-ins in Jackson, Mississippi, and the march on Washington.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 7
Writer and filmmaker Margarita Blair Young will discuss her co-created documentary she and Darius Williams-Garcia wrote based on the life of Christopher Paul Curtis, the author of Under a Painted Sky by Ta-Nehisi Coates.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13
Rita Williams-Garcia will discuss her role in the creation of Melody, the story of a prominent individual in black American history. Here are some recommendations to get you started (our librarians would love to give you more!):

KIDS: I Am Rosa Parks by Rosa Parks; Something Beautiful by Sharon Wyeth; Henry’s Freedom Box by Ellen Levine; Firebird by Misty Copeland; Tenny Tracer in the World of Black History by Tom Feelings; Roll of Thunder, Hear My Cry by Mildred Taylor; The Skin I’m In by Sharon Flake; Something Beautiful by Sharon Wyeth; I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings by Maya Angelou; The Watsons Go to Birmingham, 1963 by Christopher Paul Curtis; Monster by Walter Dean Myers; The Crossover by Kwame Alexander; Under a Painted Sky by Stacey Lee

ADULTS: Their Eyes Were Watching God by Zora Neale Hurston; A Lesson Before Dying by Ernest J. Gaines; The Underground Railroad by Colson Whitehead; Twelve Years a Slave by Solomon Northrup, Between the World and Me by Ta-Nehisi Coates

MOVIES: 42: The Jackie Robinson Story (HB 19200); Glory (HB 3277); Race (HB 19167); Ray (HB 14090); Malcolm X (HB 4883) Belle (DR 19195); Selma (HB 19098); 12 Years a Slave (HB 19041); More Than a Month (973.0496 M8131)

Have conversations with your children, family, and friends about diversity and the importance of sharing and caring between races and cultures. As Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., said, “We may have all come on different ships, but we’re in the same boat now.” We hope you will join us this month in fostering open dialogue and communication between people of all backgrounds and uniting to better our understanding of our shared past and future as Americans.

NEW YEAR'S HOLIDAY

FRIDAY, JANUARY 6
Man On Wire (PG-13, 2008)
